Rod and Gun Club Turkey Shoot 21st

Will be Held at Nash Farm; Members Hear Wild Life Talk

Randolph H. Thompson, of the State Game Commission, gave a lecture and motion pictures of wild life, at the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club meeting, Wednesday evening in the Legion Hall, Windsor avenue, Narberth.

Its annual Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot will be held by the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club this Saturday afternoon at one, on the Nash farm, in Penn Valley. Prizes of dressed turkeys, ducks and chickens will go to those with best still target marksmanship and also high men in trap shooting at 25 clay pigeons.

J. A. Miller, president of club, and J. P. White, attended a meeting of the General Wild Life Federation, Eastern Montgomery County Chapter, at the Abington High School, Monday evening. Mr. Miller addressed the meeting on "Conservation of Game and Stream Improvement."

This Saturday at 3.30 P. M., Wissahickon Creek, foot of Allen's lane, there will be the unveiling and dedication of the bronze tablet commemorating the stream improvement of the creek. Address by Charles M. B. Cadwalader, managing director, Academy of Natural Science of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Le Grande Ball, of Bowman and Narberth avenues, spent the week-end at Port Jervis, New York.

Mrs. Ball entertained at a luncheon and bridge party last Tuesday at the Gulph Mills Golf Club. There were 16 guests.

Officialdom Votes 12 to 3 Against Milk Control District Withdrawal

Health Board Marks Time

Narberth's Board of Health Tuesday night decided to take no further action on any policy except routine health matters until the status of its membership is established by Narberth Borough Council. Terms of all present members of the Board of Health will have expired by the December meeting of Council, the appointive body for the Board of Health.

Eighty per cent of Narberth's officials are against the borough Health Board's proposed withdrawal from Milk Control District No. 1, it was revealed Monday night when 15 office holders voted 12 to 3 against the measure in a straw poll.

At a joint meeting of five councilmen, four Health Board members, four School Board members, and other borough officers, a two-hour discussion was held in Elm Hall, Narberth, concerning the contemplated action by the Board of Health.

The meeting was called at the suggestion of Dr. George A. Sloan, president of the Board of Health, while the straw vote was made at the suggestion of Councilman Robert F. Wood.

Wharton B. Carroll, Health Board member and its representative on the Milk Control Committee of District No. 1, said the proposed withdrawal was in the interest of economy and that the borough would suffer no lessening of protection by the change. He said the withdrawal would provide more money for other purposes, such as control of contagious diseases.

Dr. Sloan told how the Health Board acts in handling cases of contagion. Frequently, he said, he had acted as a diagnostician without compensation for the public good.

Dr. Sloan, it was brought out by Mr. Carroll, is the candidate for local milk control officer.

Burgess John R. Hall said he would use his veto power if any ordinance were passed "which would mean a lessening of the present protection."

Others who spoke in opposition to the proposal were Mrs. R. C. Hoffman, Health Board member, and Mrs. H. R. Rinehart, vice-president of the School Board.

Touching the matter of economy, Dr. Sloan said that the borough of Swarthmore, similar in many respects to Narberth, has its milk control work done for about half the price Narberth is now paying the Milk Control District.

Others taking part in the discussion included Tristan B. duMarais, Health Board member; Dr. LeRoy A. King, president of the School Board, and Councilmen William H. Durbin, Eugene H. Davis and Roland Fleer.

Other officials present were William H. Pretz, president of council; Dr. Walter Steckbeck, secretary, and J. L. McCrery, treasurer of the School Board; Henry A. Frye, borough solicitor; Edwin P. Dold, borough tax collector; Charles V. Noel, secretary of council, and Mrs. Ruth W. Grace, assistant secretary.

Mulieres' Benefit Nets Firemen $400

Prizes Awarded to Three at Drawing in Elm Hall

ACTIVE MEMBERS SHARE

First prize in the Mulieres' annual benefit for the Narberth Fire Company was awarded last Thursday night in Elm Hall to A. E. Gilfillan, 94 Wynnedale road, Narberth. It was an 106-piece china dinner set.

Second prize, a silk down quilt, went to George S. Trimble, 1216 Montgomery avenue, Narberth.

Third prize, two books of movie tickets, was drawn by J. H. Lyte, 519 Kenilworth road, Merion.

About $400 was cleared in the benefit for the fire company. A percentage of the proceeds will be given to the Active Members' Club, which aided in the drawing, for the purchase of club equipment.

Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, president of the Mulieres, was in charge of the drawing.

Main Lines

S. Vadner has purchased plot 7 on Dartmouth road, Bala-Cynwyd, where he will build a stone Colonial residence.

Lower Merion continued to lead Montgomery County townships in number of relief cases last week with 39. Narberth's cases decreased from four to two.

In an unusual accident Sunday Joseph Wexlin, of Carroll Park, became impaled on a screwdriver he held in his hand when he fell from a stool while hanging a picture. The tool entered his cheek and came out on the side of his neck. Condition held not serious.

A total of $7478 in unclaimed dividends awaits depositors of the defunct Merion Title and Trust Company, it is announced by Secretary of Banking Luther C. Harr.

These nine Lower Merion High School students, with grades of 90 per cent or better, have been placed on the first quarter honor roll: Claire Barton, Henry Cornman, Muriel Albertson, Joan Deal, Lena DeMarco, Jean Englehardt, Betty Grace, Noyes Leech and Frances Lynd.

Now that the first snowfall has fallen, it's Thanksgiving Day next Thursday, and then only so many more shopping days 'til Christmas.

Mail early! The parcel post deadline for delivery before Christmas to Egypt and Palestine is December 2. Parcel post service to Spain has been suspended but delivery of other mail

First Red Cross Day Nearly Double 1935

Main Line Initial Returns Exceed Last Year by 325

ACTIVITIES PROGRESS

The annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross began Armistice Day, November 11. Five hundred workers from the Main Line Branch No. 1 of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter, started to canvass the branch territory which extends roughly from City Line to Radnor and from the Schuylkill River to Darby Creek. The first returns from this canvass amounted to 719 members, an increase of 325 members over the first report day of last year.

During the first week that the Red Cross living exhibit at 1111 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, was open, more than 1,500 persons attended. This is not merely a city exhibit, but is Chapter-wide in the types of service re-enacted there.

The exhibit is open daily from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. Admission is absolutely free, and no solicitation for memberships or gifts of any sort is made. Everyone is invited to attend.

A standard class in first aid met in the Times Medical Building, November 11. It is not too late to join this class as we hope to increase the membership. There is no charge for this class.

A class in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick started Wednesday, in the Girl Scout Room at the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. Anyone interested in taking this class please communicate with American Red Cross, Times Medical Building, Ardmore.

Junior Dance Tomorrow Night; Tea for New Members

Overbrook Golf Club will be the scene of the first dance of the Narberth Junior Community Club season this Saturday night.

On Sunday, November 29, the juniors will hold a tea to welcome new members. Mrs. Harold Laine, chairman and her able Membership Committee will be in charge and the juniors are looking forward to a lovely affair in the clubrooms.

Only Democrats' Internal Warfare Kept County Republican--Spectator

It is not the most remote thing in the world that Montgomery's rendezvous with destiny will bring forth the next President of the United States from these immediate parts and it should not be long before we see evidence of history in the making, even if the first step only involves an endeavor to adjust the indefensible Democratic situation which exists in the heir presumptive's own territory.

At which point, with the finished facts in front of us, we pause to opine that Roosevelt would have carried Montgomery County if a fierce degree of internecine strife had not confused the efforts of his cohorts.

There is nothing which can be said as to the cause of the extraordinary state of things in Montgomery which will not be denied quickly by one side or the other, but it is easy to surmise that Messrs. Earle and Guffy

Daniel P. Mannix Tells P. T. A. About "Unpleasant Animals"

PRIZES TO TRAVEL CLUB

A capacity audience of parents and their children attended the meeting of the Narberth Parents and Teachers' Association in the auditorium of the Narberth School Monday evening.

Daniel P. Mannix, author and animal lover, gave a very interesting lecture on his studies of what he styles "Unpleasant Animals," showing slides illustrating their habits. He also brought several of his pets with him among them a porcupine, two raccoons and several snakes.

Miss Clara Follette, librarian of the Narberth Public Library, made the following Book Awards for the summer Travel Club. Rosemary Manion, second grade, St. Margaret's School; Lillian Anderson and Ruth Riddle, third grade, Narberth School, and Edward Miller of the sixth grade, who was given an autographed copy of "Backyard Zoo," by Mr. Mannix. About 100 children received certificates and honorable mention.

The Salute to the Flag was led by Scout Kenneth Schrepfer, Troop No. 2 and Mrs. Edmund Allen Whiting, the president presided. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. E. A. Englehart, chairman of programs.

At the next meeting, December 22, a Christmas play will be presented by the children of the Narberth School.

Penn Valley Bans Gunners

The Executive Committee of the Penn Valley Association has voted to turn in hunting license numbers of all gunners found hunting on posted ground in Penn Valley to the State Game Commission.

At the meeting Monday, W. Morgan Churchman, Jr., was chosen a member of the Executive Committee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Lester Collier.

Roping off of Beech Hill road for coasting this winter will be asked of the Lower Merion police department.

Fly More Flags Here Boro Women Told

Club Holds Armistice Day Meeting; Peace Advocates Speak

SCHEDULE FOR GROUPS

An Armistice Day program was given at the meeting of the Women's Community Club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Ralph C. Heath, the president, urged that all club women should unite in a big drive for peace.

The Salute to the Flag was given by club members followed by the singing of "America," with Mrs. E. J. Pollock as accompanist. Mrs. John C. Nash, former Regent of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and a club member gave a talk on the "Proper Way to Display the Flag and its History." She advocates the use of more flags in Narberth on patriotic days. Mrs. Nash stated that most people did not know how to display their flags properly such as the custom of putting the flag to half mast on Memorial Day in commemoration of the dead soldiers and raising it to the top in the afternoon for the living soldiers. She also spoke of worn out flags saying that they should be burnt instead of being thrown out on the trash.

Speaker of the afternoon was Richard D. Wood, executive secretary of the Friend's Peace Conference. His subject was "Peace and Patriotism." He pointed out that the citizen of United States was indirectly connected with the welfare of the other nations of the world, and if they became involved, he would also be involved, not perhaps from a physical standpoint, but from an economic standpoint. He spoke of the restless conditions in Germany, Japan, Italy and the other countries and the flux of the present alliances.

A food sale for the Foundation Fund was very successful. Mrs. Caryl E. Starr, the project chairman was in charge. Tea was served. Mrs. Joseph H. Hongler, chairman of the Hospitality in Charge, Mrs. J. S. Erickson was the hostess.

Mrs. Clifford Bates, chairman of publicity, gave a report on the press conference held in Philadelphia last week when Mrs. Leon Webster Melcher, chairman of publicity for Montgomery County, gave a short address.

The Parliamentary Law Class will meet December 1, at 11 A. M. at the home of Mrs. William H. Muller, 35 Sabine avenue, Mrs. Edward C.

Players' Meeting 24th; "Post Road" Dec. 11-12

Kathleen McConnel Directing Production for Drama Group

The dramatic revue "Victoria Regina" to be given by Maroa Bailey, Tuesday evening, November 24, at the Narberth School auditorium, under the sponsorship of the Narberth Players, has taken on the aspect of a most special occasion and a crowded house is almost certain.

William H. Muller, who has arranged this program, announces as added attractions Robert Greenwood, tenor and Ralph W. Parker, violinist, who will lend their talents in creating a musical background to "Victoria Regina."

President Simpson will call the meeting at 8.30 so that the feature of the evening may begin sharp at 9. It runs about one and a quarter hours without intermission and late comers are requested to occupy rear seats, if available. Everyone is invited. There will be a small guest fee of 25c to partly cover costs of entertainment and hospitality committee. Refreshments will be served.

The production of "Post Road" now in rehearsal by the Narberth Players is postponed to December 11 and 12. Kathleen McConnel is directing the production.

The Players are pleased to announce that the original one-act play "White Hyacinths" by Faith Faulkes Farmer, to be produced at the December meeting, the 15th, will be directed by the author herself, who has already selected an able cast to present this little gem. Incidental to the production, the play automatically becomes the first entry into the one-act play writing contest being held this season.

Future of Republican Party

This is the first time that the Republican party has suffered two successive disastrous defeats in Presidential elections. It is true that the G. O. P. went under in 1912 and 1916, but in neither year was the defeat disastrous.

In 1912 the bad showing with Taft was due to the split caused by the separate candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt. The two wings of the Republicans together polled a larger vote than Wilson for the Democrats. Moreover, in the mid-term elections two years later the G. O. P., although losing some Senate seats, won almost a majority of the House of Representatives. As for 1916, the election was very close, and the Republicans elected more candidates to the House than the Democrats.

The Democrats have been better accustomed to a succession of lean years. They were snowed under in 1860 (party split), 1864, 1868 (popular vote fairly close), and 1872. They did badly in 1900, 1904, and 1908; and again in 1920, 1924, and 1928. But each time (except in the Smith-Hoover contest) the Democratic party could count on the unshaken loyalty of the Solid South. That meant an irreducible minimum of almost one-fourth of the electoral college and of Congress.

So the Democrats always had a foundation on which to build. Maine and Vermont hardly suffice to serve the Republican party in that way. On the other hand, even in the two Democratic landslides of 1932 and 1936 the Republican candidates for the presidency polled about forty per cent of the popular vote. A party which can always count on the support of four of every ten voters need not abandon hope.

And, probably, the overwhelming defeat administered to the G. O. P. on November third ultimately may prove the salvation of the party. New, virile leadership in county, State and Nation is called for, and, rest assured, it will be forthcoming.

Efforts must be made to bring back to the party the millions of Republicans who, disgusted with the old regime, bolted to Democracy. And it only can be done by revamping the tenets of the party—bringing out a platform more in keeping with the liberal spirit of the times. The Bourbons in the party, who never forget and never learn, must be ousted from leadership if the G. O. P. is to regain its once proved position as the dominant political party of the nation.

In the Mailbag

To the Editor:

The members of the Narberth branch of the W. C. T. U. desire to express their appreciation of the article written in your editorial column issued November 13, 1936, concerning the drinking at the Lower Merion-Norristown football game at Villanova.

We deplore the drinking at football games and the apathy of more mature folks concerning their example to the younger ones.

Applauding your courage and hoping that you will continue your efforts along these lines, we remain, sincerely yours,

MABEL E. KENNEDY,

President.

HELEN V. WOOLMINGTON,

Secretary.

That's My Story

—And I'll stick to it. Wally may well determine the fate of Europe, and thereby, civilization. For war nowadays can be disastrous.

Suppose the King gives her up. But he will not, and he is to be respected for his English determination and his clean-cut insistence on living his own life as he pleases.

So suppose he does not give her up. What will France and Poland do about it? Let's skip Poland. Take France. All right, I'll take her. Belgium shows she need not need France. Why? Because, in my opinion as a seasoned international relations observer, she realizes Germany will not invade her. And why not? Because Germany is not going to molest England next time, any more than it wanted to molest our mother country in 1914. Will Angleterre resist a Teutonic invasion of France? Not if Belgium, so close to Dover's white cliffs, is not molested. For La Belle France is not one of us at present. She is Socialist-Communist-Leon Blumist, and England, in common with the non dictator-dominated regimes, recognizes this ominous fact: The common peepul will not fight unless their own particular patrie is invaded. And delayed mobilization is fatal, these days of aircraft.

Yes, there's no doubt that Germany is going places—along with King Edward. And Belgique. Passive acquiescence for the latter. Call it morbid acquiescence if you will, as opposed to enthusiastic co-operation. But by now you've had the idea. Just read all this at your next club meeting, save the lecturer's current events fee and fifteen minutes' elaboration, and thank, perhaps,

TOM ELWOOD.

Boy Scout Notes

With the belief that the success of the scout troop depends in great part upon the activity and interest of the Troop Committee, the Main Line District has planned a series of meetings where training of committeemen will be the primary objective. C. H. Woolmington, chairman of training on the Main Line District Committee has planned the meetings so that committeemen of every troop in the district may gain the advantages of attending the training courses with a minimum of inconvenience.

The first gathering will be held at the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church on Tuesday, December 1. At that time, committeemen from Bryn Mawr, Rosemont, Gladwynne, Wayne and Haverford will have the opportunity to hear experienced men explain the most modern and efficient methods of organizing the work of the troop.

On Thursday, December 3, the second meeting will be held at the branch office of the Main Line District. On that evening, the committees of the four Ardmore troops, Penn Wynne, and the Cub Packs in the vicinity will gather for their training period. West Manayunk, and the Merion Liberty Ship will meet in the Merion Scout House. The last meeting of the series will be held in the Narberth Presbyterian Church on Thursday, December 10, for the benefit of the committees of the three Narberth troops, Wynnewood, and the Narberth Cub Pack.

Roy L. Johnson, well known among scouts for his practical and worthwhile ideas in scouting will officiate at all the conferences.

Christian Work in India

The Senior Luther League of the Lutheran Church will present a missionary program Sunday evening at 6.45. Miss Luisa Hart, of the Northeast India General Mission will speak, and two native Indian boys will tell of their conversion to Christianity. The league invites all who are interested to enjoy this service with them.

Ladies' Aid Bazaar

The Ladies' Aid of the Narberth Presbyterian Church will hold their annual bazaar Saturday, December 5, at the church.

This will give every one a chance to make their Christmas purchases early as there will be a large variety of gifts to select from. They will also serve a Swiss steak dinner from five until eight o'clock.

Change Rehearsal Place

Rehearsals at 8.15 P. M. Mondays will be held at the Cynwyd School beginning next Monday for the Gilbert and Sullivan show which the Bala-Cynwyd Choral will present after the first of the year. Smooth progress is being made, under direction of James Tilbury, and the only lack at present is for men in the chorus. Men of the community are invited to affiliate with the organization now.

is being done about it (despite the enormous Democratic gains which harmony would produce in Montgomery) might be regarded intelligently as a sign of the bitterness which may come to pass in the gubernatorial battle two years hence.

Harrisburg says that Earle wants Margiotti to succeed him. Not many concur in the wisdom of the Governor's choice. Numerous Pennsylvanians see plenty of pitfalls in such a campaign. Guffey is reported as violently opposed. It is said that he is not at all unfavorable to Mayor S. Davis Wilson. That astute gentleman is building himself up exceedingly well to live at the Capitol. Guffey is the State's best politician. Nothing but love of the game would have kept him on his lone job during Democracy's long lean years. He knows that Wilson will show up on some ticket and that he will be a formidable candidate under any flag. If there is substance in the frequent statements that Earle wants Margiotti and that Guffey most decidedly does not want him, we can all start to make some sense out of the present Montgomery status, which would be totally inexplicable if this or some other similar situation were not in the offing.

At any rate, an occasional review of the posture of affairs in Montgomery can very well be in order, particularly as it is also evident that the Republican organization has become highly vulnerable and is as uneasy as a groom on the eve of the wedding.

Ardmore C. of C. Offers Traffic Relief Proposal

In behalf of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce, its president, R. R. Picking, appeared at the November meeting of the township commissioners to present a plan for the relief of congestion and traffic on Lancaster avenue, Ardmore, especially between Cricket and Ardmore avenues.

The proposal calls for extension of Ardmore avenue to the railroad's right of way and eventually to Montgomery avenue, building of a new street on the south side of the railroad from Anderson avenue to the Ardmore avenue extension, with a bridge over Anderson avenue from the high level of Ardmore Station Plaza to the new street, and with a ramp to connect new street with present Anderson avenue.

Mr. Picking recommended these improvements, estimated to cost half a million dollars, be included in the township's 1937 budget, and that a joint committee of the commissioners and the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce work out the plan.

Julius Zieget, president of the commissioners, said the board would take the proposal under advisement.

D. A. R. Officers Address Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter

The Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, D. A. R., met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John C. Nash, on Wynnedale avenue, when the guest speakers were Mrs. Harper Donaldson Sheppard, a State regent; Mrs. Horace M. Jones, of Germantown, national chairman and State treasurer, and Mrs. Joseph J. Klumpp, regent of the Jephtha Abbott Chapter.

Mrs. Sheppard spoke of the fine work of the chapter in forming junior organizations, while Mrs. Jones talked on Americanization.

Mrs. J. H. Baker, the secretary, reported on the memorial service and tea given at the Reading Country Club during the recent State conference, and Mrs. John Nash a resume of the State conference.

Mrs. C. Fred Kuebler, Jr., of Narberth Park, soloist of the afternoon, sang "Gentle Annie," "Nelly Bly" and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny."

A dessert luncheon preceded the meeting. Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Joseph H. Miller were the hostesses.

Baltimore Debutante Killed in Bala by Hit-Run Auto

Miss Mary Hope Hunter, 20, Baltimore debutante, was crushed to death when a hit-run driver's automobile struck the car in which she was riding with three young companions.

The two couples were on their way to St. Davids after attending the Yale-Princeton game at Princeton and spending the evening dancing at the Bellevue-Stratford. The crash was at 2.15 A. M. at Belmont and Monument roads.

The hit-runner fled without trying to aid the victims, but he left on the scene a tiny bolt from the hood of his car.

As a result police several hours later arrested James J. Stewart, 18, of Bainbridge street near 26th, a painter. He confessed, police say.

Miss Hunter's companions escaped in the crash with trifling cuts and bruises. They were:

Thomas E. Walton, Jr., 22, of "Bon-alton," St. Davids, a senior at Yale. John Boyce, 23, also a Yale student, Baltimore.

Miss Mary T. Edelen, 21, of Glen Arm, Md.

Local Movies

"Last of the Mohicans" at Narberth; "Ramona," "King Steps Out" Coming

"The Last of the Mohicans," the tale of a new nation fighting bitterly for existence in a new world, is now playing at the Narberth. Randolph Scott and Binnie Barnes are featured players. The siege of Fort William Henry on Lake George by the Iroquois and French offers particularly thrilling scenes.

Coming Monday and Tuesday is Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal love story of a white man and an Indian maid, "Ramona." It's in technicolor with the beautiful Loretta Young in the title role.

"Back to Nature," an hilarious farce with The Jones Family, is the feature for Wednesday (Cash Award Night).

Next Thursday and Friday, Grace Moore again thrills with her magic voice in the grandest musical drama of the year—"The King Steps Out." Franchot Tone is happily cast as the gallivanting sovereign.

The Narberth Theatre is the first in this section to present "Ramona" and "Back to Nature."

"Texas Rangers," "Devil is Sissy" and March of Time at Egyptian

"The Texas Rangers"—18 of them—stand off hundreds of Comanches in the battle of the boulders—and such thrills when the bank and train get robbed. . . . Fred MacMurray has a different and pleasing role, Jean Parker is adequate, and Jack Oakie amuses as always—at the Egyptian, now.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next, that hotcha vocal team, Peggy Conklin and Freddie Bartholomew, sing "Say Ah" in "The Devil is a Sissy." And those other tough fighters from New York's streets, Jackie Cooper, tap dancer, and Mickey Rooney, piano-player, make the show exceptional. For its wholesome humor and human appeal, it is recommended for everyone; there will be an after-school matinee Tuesday at four.

And the new March of Time will be on the program all three days: "The Presidency"—candid camera study behind the scenes in the White House—and "New Schools for Old"—the far cry from the Little Red Schoolhouse to such modern classrooms as on the Main Line.

Thanksgiving Day, at a special matinee and also for the evening Bank Night program, the show will be "They Met in a Taxi," diverting story of a stolen necklace, and the funny Lionel Stander, taxi-driving Chester Morris, and the beautiful model, Fay Wray.

"Old Hutch" will conclude the week.

Merion Notes

Mrs. E. G. Betz, of Merion road, will entertain at a buffet supper following the Army-Navy football game Saturday, November 28.

Dr. and Mrs. R. Hamill Swing, of Brookway and Merion avenues, will entertain at a family dinner Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Holt Eliason, of Valley View road, spent the week-end in Chestertown, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Reinhart, Jr., of S. Highland avenue, will entertain at a buffet supper the evening of November 28 in honor of their son, Midshipman George R. Reinhart, 3d, following the Army-Navy football game. There will be 30 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Van Dusen, Jr., of Woodley road, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, Duncan Whelen Van Dusen, November 11. Mrs. Van Dusen is the former Miss Maria Pepper Whelen, daughter of Mrs. T. Duncan Whelen, of Overbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Mason, of Ebersburg, will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Biddle, of Sycamore road, next week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Biddle will entertain at a dinner November 28, for some of the midshipmen following the Army-Navy game.

Mr. and Mrs. Biddle will be the guests of Mrs. Biddle's mother, Mrs. George Tourison, of West Philadelphia, at a family dinner Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Biddle were among the guests at a large family party Friday evening given by Mr. Biddle's mother, Mrs. T. N. Biddle, of Drexel Hill.

Mrs. Robert B. Ely, 3d, of Valley road, entertained at a bridge party Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Martin Mutz, of Louisville, Ky., who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Frank Silvers, of Lincoln Court, Overbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Montgomery Bird, of Beacom lane, Merion, will spend the week-end in Easton, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hilliard. They will attend the Lehigh-Lafayette game Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Maxwell, of Baird road, will have as their guests for the Thanksgiving holidays, the Misses Emilie and Louise Collins, of

New York.

Mrs. H. B. Maxwell will entertain her club at luncheon and bridge Tuesday, December 1, and her daughter, Dr. Emilie Maxwell, will entertain her club at bridge Monday evening, November 30.

Mrs. A. H. Sibley, who has been the guest of her niece, Mrs. W. Shepley Evans, of S. Highland avenue, has returned to her home in Beach Haven, N. J.

The Envy of the World!

UTILITY SERVICE is the distinctive feature of American life—it sets this Nation apart from the rest of the world.

It explains why no other Nation or group lives as well—why we work shorter hours for higher wages—why we have more automobiles, radios, washing machines, reapers, sewing machines, refrigerators!

Along with America's natural resources and capital investment, it explains why our country is so productive, why the rare luxury of other lands is a mere commonplace here.

Utility service is the prime source of America's higher scale of living!

Blaze Damage $3000 at Bala-Cynwyd Home

Boys Tell Owner Bala Avenue Residence is on Fire

THIRD FLOOR GUTTED

Damage of $3000 was caused to the home of William F. Henderscheid, 366 Bala avenue, Cynwyd, Sunday afternoon when flames burned the roof and rear of the residence.

Members of the Union Fire Association of Bala-Cynwyd, under the direction of Chief William L. Hornung, fought two hours to get the blaze under control.

It is believed to have been caused by a defective flue.

The fire was first noticed by boys playing football in a lot across the street from the Bala-Cynwyd Woman's Club, who saw smoke swirling up from the house and went to investigate.

Henderscheid, his wife and their three-year-old daughter, were home at the time, basking in the glow of logs burning in the fireplace, blissfully unaware that the roof of their home was in flames also.

The boys knocked loudly on the door, shouting "Your house is on fire." The fire company was notified, and Mr. and Mrs. Henderscheid, after placing their daughter in care of neighbors, began to move furniture from the house.

The flames had gotten a good start, eating into the wood shingle roof at the rear. A slate roof in the front of the building protected that portion.

The entire third floor of the house was gutted by the flames and rooms on the second floor were damaged by smoke and water.

One fireman, James Maguire, suffered injury to his foot when he stepped on a nail.

Henderscheid is connected with the Lee Tire and Rubber Company of Conshohocken.

Cynwyd's fire company so far this month has served at nine fires, most of them field fires.

Directors for one-year terms to fill vacancies are: N. E. Rink, Phillips H. Wright, Eugene Pendergrass and Harold R. Moore.

Legal Intelligence

A person who has executed a bond and mortgage on real estate is personally liable for the amount of the mortgage. If the mortgage is foreclosed, and the property sold at sheriff's sale and purchased by the mortgagee for a nominal bid of one dollar ($1), as is usually the case, the mortgagor is still liable for the payment of the full amount of the mortgage less the sum of one dollar ($1).

The so-called Deficiency Judgment Acts of 1933, 1934 and 1935 attempted to remedy this obvious injustice by providing a method by which the parties could have the value of the property determined by the Court, and thus limit the amount of his liability after foreclosure to the difference between the principal of the mortgage, plus interest and costs, and the value of the property as fixed by the Court.

Probably the most momentous decision of our State Supreme Court in recent years is that which held the "Deficiency Judgment Act of 1934" unconstitutional as to all mortgages executed prior to its passage. The Court's decision is unquestionably sound and is in accord with the decisions of numerous other State Supreme Courts upon similar statutes. It is a virtual certainty that the Act of 1935 will be nullified in the same manner.

Thus the old law, unfair though it may be, still applies to old mortgages, the score of the "Deficiency Judgment Acts" being limited to mortgages executed subsequent to the passage of the acts. Upon old mortgages the only way of decreasing the personal liability of the mortgagor is to have prospective purchasers at the sheriff's sale to interpose bids.

Rev. Jack Stephenson Leaves St. John's for Church in Germantown

The Rev. John Samuel Stephenson, Jr.—Jack to a host of friends—this week took up his new duties at the Church of St. John the Baptist, 5001 Germantown avenue, Germantown. He moved Monday from his home, 115 City Line, to Germantown, with Mrs. Stephenson and their three children.

Son of the late J. Samuel Stephenson, Philadelphia wool merchant, and the late Mrs. Stephenson, who was one of the founders of the Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd, Jack is a lifelong resident of the Main Line. He was a lay reader at St. John's Church in Cynwyd, and curate under Dr. A. E. Clattenburg for the past year and a half. He was graduated from the Philadelphia Divinity School in 1935 and ordained to the priesthood last June.

Active in Boy Scout and young people's work in general, Jack has been one of the most popular residents of the community. With his wife, he served for years in Junior Woman's Club entertainment programs, and he has been active in the Neighborhood Club.

Diners Recall Days of Horse and Buggy

100 Attend 99th Annual Meeting of Law Enforcement Society

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Horse and buggy days were recalled as a happy epoch in history Saturday night in Ardmore when 100 members and friends of the Lower Merion Society for the Recovery of Stolen Horses and the Detection of Horse Thieves held their 99th annual banquet.

Oysters prepared in four ways were partaken of generously in keeping with an old custom of the organization.

Speakers were Judge William F. Dannenhower, Jr., of Montgomery County Court; Julian W. Barnard, Norristown attorney, and Luther C. Parsons, Cynwyd, president of the society.

Mr. Parsons recalled the "good old days" of open sleighs on moonlit nights and said "there should be a monument to the horse in every town and city of the United States."

Judge Dannenhower spoke of the important part the horse had played in civilizing this country.

Prior to the dinner these officers were unanimously re-elected:

Mr. Parsons, who has been president for the past 21 years; Walter Latch, Gladwyne, vice-president; Richard A. Hamilton, Philadelphia, secretary; Dr. Clifford H. Arnold, Ardmore, treasurer.

Of the 165 men who were members when Mr. Parsons joined, there are only three surviving. They are Mr. Parsons, Mr. Latch and Harry Kirk, Narberth, who was unable to attend the supper because of illness.

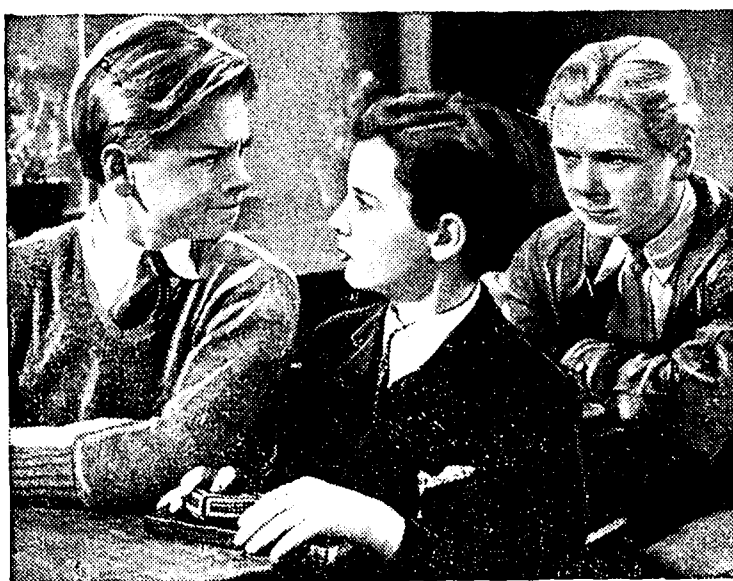

County L. W. V. Luncheon at Norristown December 1

The Montgomery County League of Women Voters will hold a luncheon on December 1 at the Valley Forge Hotel, Norristown, when the guests will be State Senator Theodore Lane Bean and the five representatives.

Mrs. David Chandler Prince, State president of the league, will discuss some points of legislation in which the members of the league are interested. Mrs. William H. Gehmann, Jr., of Cynwyd, is the president of the Montgomery County League and reservations for the luncheon may be made with her.

That Advertising Business

For some reason unknown to advertising men, there seems to surround their calling a certain glamour—in the minds of the laity. Undoubtedly, the fictioneers are responsible for it, in great measure. There have been written innumerable stories with advertising agencies and their doings as the pivot on which has revolved all manner of chimerical adventure.

Always, some scintillating genius is the hero who pulls over the eyes of his client the wool of some finely contrived scheme to cozen him—for his own good, of course. And there is, generally, a ravishingly comely young secretary who supplies, subtly, the brains for her boss, the contact-man. Eventually they marry in a fast ending and to a rapid curtain.

Ever and anon the contact-man is throwing to his president a fish or two, to palliate an habitual grouch and to abate the bear-like growls which emanate from the mahogany of the front office and rumble like a storm through the entire place. All day long he pounds his desk and roars his condemnations and his orders. The staff trembles and runs to cover, fearful of being led to the elevator with the final paycheck.

The picture couldn't be complete without the art director—who has the skill of a Raphael, the wit of a Rabelais and the wisdom of the angels. Out of thin air, with the speed of a flash of lightning, he snatches the inspiration for a whole year's campaign. In five short minutes he transfers to paper the key thought, proclaimed a knockout by one and all.

Then the advertising writer, commonly called a "copy man" (what a name!) dashes off a series of advertisements to be shown to the advertiser ten minutes before he leaves for Europe. He likes it and shows it by slapping the contact-man on the back and giving to him a fat, black cigar—when the agency man is a confirmed cigarette smoker. Anyway, on the strength of the performance, the contact-man is made a vice-president and given a fat increase in salary.

Invariably, in the tales, the office of an advertising agency is the scene of riotous tumult. Speed is in the saddle and the office force is doing a marathon—all but the contact-man, who sits with his feet on his desk, snapping out suggestions and having them killed by that secretary, who slyly pokes fun at him and supplies better ones. Nice writing material, all that, for the short-story writers, most of whom have seen little of the workings of an advertising agency—if a seasoned craftsman is any judge.

In reality, all glamour is absent in the advertising business. Never, in any commercial pursuit did the people of it work harder in assembling material, marshaling facts and figures. Never did a lawyer work more diligently in preparing his case for a murder trial. Never did an architect sit longer with head on hand striving to solve a baffling problem than do the people of the advertising business.

Years ago, in Chicago, there was a brilliant advertising writer named Herbert Moore, who set down that good advertising comes out of perspiration, not out of inspiration. And he was as right as rain. For, take it from an old-timer, advertising is created by the sweating of blood and with mental labor so arduous that it makes of men and of women graveyard material before their time. Compared to the toil involved, the pick-and-shovel man has an easy time of it.

In times gone by, there have come to this writer scores of youngsters, fresh from college, asking for information as to how to "break into the advertising game." Game! Isn't that something which one plays? Well, one doesn't play in the advertising business. He works! Be assured of that.

And one doesn't break into it. He grows up in it. Why did they wish to offer their learning and their comprehensive experience on their college paper? Oh! They had heard that there is big money in the advertising business. And what could they bring to it as collateral? Vaguely, they thought that they had something "snappy" to offer. As a matter of fact, they would have been at the start a great deal like a felon on a thumb—not of much use to anyone, and terribly in the way.

There is good money in the advertising business, but it comes through travail and suffering and many years of patient effort. The things which one has to know in it are legion. One can't guess at things when he's spending an advertiser's hard cash. And when one gets to be president of an advertising agency, he is known generally as a topping good fellow—and the salt of the earth.

Save the adjectives.

Plan New Buildings for Malvern Retreat

Enlarged Chapel and Additional Sleeping Hall Scheduled

LOCAL RESIDENTS AID

A considerably enlarged chapel and an additional sleeping hall will be erected within the next few months on the grounds of the Laymen's Week-End Retreat League at Malvern.

The new building will be called "Corrigan Hall" as a tribute to the first Retreat Master of the League, Rt. Rev. Joseph M. Corrigan, D.D., L.L.D., who is now the rector of the Catholic University at Washington, D. C.

It will provide 40 individual bedrooms and will be similar in construction and design to St. Mary's Hall, which was erected several years ago.

The property of the Laymen's Week-End Retreat League consists of 110 acres on a 600-foot elevation at Malvern and since the start of the work in 1922, it is stated that nearly a quarter million dollars have been expended in the activity.

During this year nearly four thousand men have made week-end retreats at Malvern and the occasions are described as "intervals out of space and time," when spiritual issues are stressed exclusively under a procedure which calls for definite periods of silence and reflection.

Non-Catholics as well as Catholics are in attendance at practically every week-end retreat, according to league officials, and it is said that the membership of the Philadelphia League is larger than any similar body in this country or in Europe.

Main Line members of the Executive Committee which is directing the further expansion include J. J. Cabrey, of Narberth; Joseph L. Durkin, of Merion; Joseph M. Lamorelle, of Ardmore, and S. A. Rudolph, of Wynne-wood.

Narberth Will Have Strong Court Array

Borough Five to Meet Aces at Haverford High November 27

JAY NEILL IS MANAGER

The most promising basketball array ever assembled in Narberth will represent the borough in the Main Line League marathon which will get underway on Friday, November 27, with the local five meeting Haverford Aces at Haverford High School.

The team will be made up mainly of players who helped Bryn Mawr to clinch the championship two years ago. Jay Neill, who managed that club and piloted Bryn Mawr last season, has been handed the skipper duties for the new Narberth club. He succeeds Tom Skillman who will continue as an active player.

The following players, most of whom are rated as stars, have been signed to perform for the borough club: Al and Russ Herrmann, Henry Soleliac, Jim Fergus, Dave and Jim Aiken, Russ Fisher, Ray Stanley, Roy Williams, Warren Lockwood, Herby Challen, Ken Hashagen, Tubby Forte and Jack Dunleavy. Fisher and Dunleavy are newcomers to local ranks. The former played three years on the Ursinus varsity. Dunleavy is a local boy who will try to crash the lineup.

Narberth's passers have been working out for the past three weeks and Manager Jay Neill expresses confidence that his charges will be in the thick of the race for season's laurels.

Opposition Develops Against WFIL in Bala

Radio Station's Appeal for Zoning Variance Heard Last Night

AMATEURS IN PETITION

Opposition to the erection of WFIL's broadcasting tower in Bala was expected at the Lower Merion Board of Zoning adjustment hearing scheduled to be held last night as this paper went to press. It was predicted by Everett H. Bickley, 19 Penarth road, Cynwyd, who with Walter R. Faries and other radio amateurs and technicians of the community, have been circulating a petition adding names of residents to oppose the station.

At a meeting recently at the home of Mr. Bickley, who is an inventor and radio technician of note, it was agreed that the station's proximity would not interfere with ordinary reception, but that it would cause some degree of interference with short wave and long distance reception of amateurs here.

Objection also was made that the station's erection in Bala would harm real estate values.

The Neighborhood Club of Bala-Cynwyd was expected to be represented at the hearing by a member of the committee who experimented with reception near another station—WCAU—last Saturday. President H. Gleason Mattoon last week appointed J. Walter Tobin, H. A. Klinedinst and James H. Bartlett to make tests with WFIL's attorney, Frank H. Mancill, at the 50,000-watt station in Newtown Square. They found interference to be slight.

Officially the club is still on record as it was two years ago, against what WFIL seeks—which is an exception from the Lower Merion Zoning Ordinance, to enable erection in an "A" residence district of a radio tower, control station and garage. The proposed site is on the east side of Glen road, 1300 feet north of City Line, in the West Laurel Hill Cemetery Company grounds.

According to Mr. Mancill, WFIL repeats its offer of two years ago, to have radio engineers make adjustments in any sets near the new station so that there will be no interference with reception.

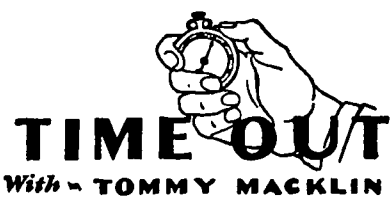

Small Fires Keep Borough Volunteer Company Busy

Four small fires during the last week have kept the Narberth Fire Company active, although the damage was practically nothing.

Wednesday at 4 A. M. the volunteers extinguished a chimney blaze at the Sunshine Garage, Iona avenue.

Monday the firemen drove their apparatus around the block only to find that the incinerator at the Baird Apartments on Essex avenue was working. The same day they extinguished a field fire on Merwyn road. The damage is listed as "one broken garter, ten cents."

Saturday the company also put out a field fire near 127 Elmwood avenue.

Tomorrow will bring the end of the trail. Lower Merion and Radnor meet in their forty-fourth game since 1897 to determine which has the better team in this year of 1936. Radnor has not won a single game in eight starts, while Lower Merion has split even so far with four victories and four defeats. The Bulldogs are picked to win and perhaps they may, but can't you just feel the dogged determination welling up in the breasts of those Radnor boys who are so anxious to redeem themselves in this, the last and most important game of the year? Radnor is out to win this one, and if Al Adam's squad goes into the game with a lack-a-day attitude the Wayne are almost certain to upset the dope.

A resume of the ancient rivalry between these two schools finds Radnor still leading with sixteen victories to fifteen for the Maroon. Eight tie games and four lost scores make up the balance. Radnor had things mostly her way from 1898 to around 1920. Up to that time Lower Merion had only won six times from the Red and White. Since 1921 the Maroon has taken the whip hand by winning nine games and holding the Radnor boys to three tie games. That leaves Radnor just three victories during the last fifteen years.

Past records mean nothing to these two schools, however, when they meet each other. Back in 1931 Lower Merion was scheduled to defeat the visitors by an overwhelming score. They did in the number of first downs—18 for Lower Merion and 3 for Radnor—but the lads from Wayne won the decision, 14 to 0. The Maroon team were itself out carrying the ball up to the goal line, but never had the moxie to put it across.

A year previous the game was played on Villanova's field. Lower Merion boasted a star team with boys like Pennypacker and Turner to lead them. Radnor just had another football team—maybe—yet O'Dorisio, Curley & Co. tied the Maroon in knots to hold them to a 12-to-12 stalemate.

This may be the perfect setup for just such another finish. It never pays to underestimate an opponent, and the fact that Radnor has yet to taste the joy of victory on the football field this year gives me great cause for worry. They will fight like wildcats to wind up the season with a win over their greatest rival.

Dick Mattis' Junior High Leopards wind up the season this afternoon when they entertain Upper Darby Junior High on Pennypacker Field. Like father, like son, or something or other—Upper Darby has not won a game this year. The Orange and Black then meets a team out for redemption purposes on Friday and the next day the Senior High meets Radnor with the same idea in mind.

The Junior High stands out like a light, however, so far as her own record is concerned. Mattis' boys have won every game and have had their goal line crossed but once during the season. If they win this one it will make the second year in succession that they have gone through their schedule of games undefeated. Good work on the part of players and coaches, for they have met the best opposition in the junior high field around Philadelphia.

A letter from Al Livingston, now in college at St. Petersburg, Fla. He is out for football and will be out for basketball soon. He doesn't like the Philadelphia sports writers' covering of games either. Who does?

Philomusian Club Mart

The Merrie Mart to be held at the Philomusian Club, 3944 Walnut street, November 20 and 21, will include a floor show, fortune teller, game room. An orchestra will furnish music during luncheon and dinner which will be served each day. A picture gallery of club members from infancy to nineteen years promises much fun. There will be bag, apron, pitcher, fancy goods and white elephant tables besides a sweet shop and pantry shelf. The Art Table will display work done by members many of whom are artists of recognized ability.

Among those on the committee is Mrs. James A. McGowan, Merion.

Pontiac A. C. Loses to Boys' Club, 13-0

Narberth Team Has Strong Schedule for Season's Remainder

M'GRATH BENEFIT 26TH

The Narberth Boys' Club football team continued its winning ways Sunday, defeating the strong Pontiac A. C. team of Philadelphia, 13-0. Throughout the game the borough boys showed to good advantage, displaying a strong line and some steady work by the backfield.

This Sunday Narberth meets the strong Westbrook Club on the borough field. Earlier in the season these teams battled to a scoreless tie, the game being so fast and clean, that players on both sides expressed the desire to play again later on in the season.

On Thanksgiving Morning the boroughites will play their annual game against the Ramblers of Ardmore, partially for the benefit of Bill McGrath, the Ardmore tackle, whose neck was dislocated earlier in the season.

The balance of the Narberth schedule calls for a game away from home on Sunday, November 29, and winding up with the strong Belmont Club of West Manayunk on the borough field, December 6.

Monthly Pickup of Strays Ordered; Township Plans 18-Acre Playfield

Pickup of stray and unlicensed dogs was ordered at the November meeting of Lower Merion's commissioners following a request from the township's Board of Health.

The collection is to be once a month only, on the third Thursday, and only from the highways. Licensed dogs will not be molested. Unlicensed dogs taken will be held at the Mill Creek Station pound for a reasonable time before disposal, and may be recovered by payment of a fine and buying of a license.

Strays are again becoming a nuisance and menace to health, particularly in Bala-Cynwyd due to its proximity to Philadelphia, Julius Ziegert, president of the commissioners, pointed out.

At the same meeting the proposed small animals clinic, advocated by the Animal Owners' Protective Association of Pennsylvania, was finally tabled on recommendation of the Board of Health, since its possible health benefits seem too remote at this time.

Authorization was given for the township to purchase 17.9 acres east of Wynnewood road at Athens avenue in the South Ardmore district, for a park and play field. The cost is not to exceed $2500 per acre. Parts of the Margaret Green, Charles Knox and Richard Kerns properties are included in the plot.

The commissioners also: Established a no-parking zone on both sides of Bryn Mawr avenue, Penn Valley, between Woodbine avenue and Manayunk road, near site of the Gully Run Park.

Awarded three-years' garbage collection contract to Stanley Bolesenski, Gradyville, for $35,000.

Gasoline Station Robbed

The gasoline station at Bryn Mawr and City avenues, which was held up and robbed three times about two years ago, was ransacked by robbers, who made away with about $100 in merchandise, Friday night. The burglary was discovered Saturday when M. P. Decker, an attendant, opened the station for business.

Junior High Building Planned for Cynwyd

Negotiations Under Way for Purchase of Three and One-Half Acres

$125,000 ISSUE IS O. K.'D

At its November meeting the Lower Merion School Board announced its intention of expanding school holdings through the purchase of new properties and a $125,000 bond issue.

It is the intention of the directors to purchase additional ground adjoining the Cynwyd School to permit the construction of another junior high school on that site. Purchase of three and one-half acres of the Gill property abutting Bryn Mawr avenue depends on whether a price agreement can be reached with the Trademen's National Bank and Trust Company, representing the estate's heirs. The board would pay $20,000; the bank wants $42,000.

Superintendent S. E. Downs said he did not expect construction on the proposed building to start for about two years, but pointed out the need of an additional building, as the present junior high structure is crowded to capacity with township population expanding.

Contract for a $125,000 bond issue to finance the purchase of additional ground in the high school plot on Montgomery avenue, Ardmore, was awarded by the School Board to Edward B. Smith & Co., a Philadelphia banking concern.

The company bid the issue at a 2 per cent interest rate and a premium offer of $101,778, which means for every $100 of bonds the school district gets $101.778 and pays 2 per cent interest on the bonds. Twenty financial houses submitted bids.

Part of the bond issue will be used for the purchase of property owned jointly by James K. and Katherine Clarke, 250 Wister road, Ardmore, in the rear of the present school property.

The purchase price of this property is $45,000. As this price is agreeable to the School Board, Superintendent S. Edgar Downs recommended that settlement be made.

Bordering on the north side of the school tract, purchase of the property will permit expansion of present athletic features.

The School Board is also contemplating purchase of another plot abutting on Wister road and owned by the Ralph L. Coulton estate. Superintendent Downs reported that A. D. Warnock, real estate agent, has been unable to reach an agreement with the owner. The School Board has offered $31,500, including the agent's commission.

Vandiver Auxiliary Plans Monte Carlo December 7

A Monte Carlo afternoon will be given by the auxiliary of the Thomas D. Vandiver Post of the American Legion at the post home headquarters on Bala avenue, Bala-Cynwyd, Monday, December 7. There will be a covered-dish luncheon, bridge and other games, with prizes for every game. Fortunes will be told at a minimum charge. As the space in the headquarters is limited, tickets will be sold to about fifty guests and may be obtained from Mrs. Robert B. Moore, Mrs. Winfield Givens, Mrs. W. King Allen, Mrs. Alec Hicks, Mrs. Conrad Albrecht or Mrs. George B. McKinney.

Mrs. Leon Webster Melcher is the president; Mrs. Alec Hicks, vice-president; Mrs. Conrad Albrecht, treasurer; Mrs. W. King Allen, recording secretary, and Mrs. John Milliken, corresponding secretary.

Psychologist Tells of Rise of Industrialism in Russia

Speaking before the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday at the Overbrook Golf Club, Dr. Morris Viteles, professor of industrial psychology at the University of Pennsylvania, gave a talk on Russia.

Tracing the rapid industrial growth of the soviet republic, he said the advantages gained cannot offset the loss of liberty under Communistic rule. Dr. Viteles spent nine months in Russia in 1935.

Engle Taylor introduced the speaker. A. J. Esrey, club president, presided. A "Ladies' Night" program is planned for November 30.

At next Tuesday's meeting the speaker will be the Rev. W. Vernon Middleton, pastor of the Narberth M. E. Church.

Doris Hill England

Doris Hill England, wife of James A. England, of 224 Sabine avenue, Narberth, died Tuesday afternoon at 1.30 after a lingering illness. Mrs. England, who has lived in Narberth for the last two years, was a member of the Women's Community Club of Narberth, the Westminster Circle of the Narberth Presbyterian Church and Order of Eastern Star No. 90. She is survived by her husband and her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hill, of Forty-Fort, Pa., and a brother, Mr. Edgar Hill, and a sister, Mrs. William Beane.

Services were held at her late residence Wednesday evening and on Friday at Forty-Fort, her former home.

Mrs. Mary B. Olmsted

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Brendlinger Olmsted will be held this Friday morning at 11 o'clock from her late residence, 416 Baird road, Merion. Mrs. Olmsted, who died Tuesday, was the widow of Henry B. Olmsted.
